Description:

“Science and science teaching are always located within specific worldviews and cannot avoid promoting particular ‘religious’ commitments. This book presents and explores Christian approaches to the teaching of science. Includes extensive annotated bibliography with updates available”

Product Description

The CST Science Curriculum Team is a group of Christian science teachers who have been meeting together regularly since 1990 in order to produce science curriculum materials which reflect a distinctly Christian worldview. The team has been led by Dr. Arthur Jones and his research has provided the basis for their work. This book contains a small sample of that work, chosen to illustrate the nature and fruitfulness of the approach they have developed. This fascinating material will be of value to all those concerned with curriculum development and with inservice training.
